Treating Needy Asylum Seekers as We Wanted and Needed to Be Treated

Title 42 is a World War II-era policy that continues to be used to expel people at the U.S.-Mexico border without the opportunity to seek asylum. This policy prohibits most asylum seekers from exercising their legal right to ask for safety, and as a result, has helped to create a chaotic border situation and forced many into dangerous situations. Title 42 kept Jews out of the United States when they desperately sought to flee Hitler's effort to rid the world of Jews but it almost allowed Jewish refugees to settle temporarily here in the Virgin Islands.

Yes, the US Virgin Islands tried to accept Jewish refugees no one else would take. On Nov. 18, 1938, nine days after the attacks on Jews throughout Germany in what became known as Kristallnacht, the nascent Virgin Islands legislature that included our own Synagogue member, Ralph Paiewonsky, passed a measure unanimously that then Governor Lawrence W. Cramer ratified. It proclaimed that refugee peoples "shall find surcease from misfortune in the Virgin Islands of the United States."

United States Interior Secretary, Harold Ickes, attempted to help in this effort by circumventing the anti-Semitic State Department's opposition to accepting the refugees. Ickes resolved to provide a haven in the territories under his jurisdiction. The U.S. Virgin Islands with 130 square miles and a population of only 25,000 could easily accommodate tens of thousands of refugees.

Refugee quotas at that time meant refugees would have to wait years that they did not have until their number came up. Ickes and Cramer proposed temporary visas that would let people wait out the immigration-application process here in the islands. Legal battles ensued with opponents in the State Department which prevented the policy from taking effect. Then on Nov. 7, 1940, Governor Cramer signed a proclamation offering temporary haven in the U.S. Virgin Islands to those who could meet certain financial and security safeguards, including prior vetting by the State and Labor departments and by the White House. Interior Secretary Ickes issued a report declaring the decree "legally unassailable."

The decree lit a fire under Assistant Secretary of State Breckinridge Long, a virulent anti-Semite, who wrote in his diary in 1938 that Hitler's "Mein Kampf" was "eloquent in opposition to Jewry and to Jews as exponents of Communism and chaos." Long had control of consular quotas and blocked even the small extant quotas for Jewish refugees.

He then complained about it to an irritated President Franklin Delano Roosevelt who in turn sent a memo to Ickes declaring that refugee matters were for him and the State Department to decide." Although he expressed sympathy for the refugees he could "not do anything which would conceivably hurt the future of present American citizens." He included the possibility that spies could be found among these refugees. Cramer continued to press the President but Long convinced Navy Secretary Kirk to declare the Virgin Islands a restricted area for military use, effectively eliminating Interior Department control and removing, as Long wrote in his diary on April 22, 1941, any "political questions involved in this refugee and undesirable citizen traffic." That ended a valiant attempt of the VI government to save Jewish refugees.

On September 18, 2011, The David S. Wyman Holocaust Institute for Holocaust Studies presented to our then Congressional Representative, Donna Christiansen, a plaque that says "to the Hon. Donna Christiansen with Gratitude for the Efforts by Governor Lawrence W. Cramer and the Legislative Assembly of the Virgin Islands To Help Rescue Jews from the Nazis. Representative Christiansen lent that plaque to the Synagogue. You can see it in the museum room behind the Synagogue.

Today similar attempts made to allow refugee status outside the actual borders of the United States are used to keep asylum seekers over the border in Mexico. Instead of finding a safe haven there while their status as an asylum seeker is approved in US immigration courts they suffer extortion and every sort of life threatening abuse at the hands of criminal predators. This World War II era policy now works not to help refugees but to expel people at the U.S.-Mexico border without any real opportunity to seek asylum and forces them into dangerous situations. This should not be how seeking asylum in the U.S. works. Unfortunately, lawmakers from both political parties are working to pass legislation that would keep Title 42 in place for the foreseeable future.

Hebrew Congregation Members and Chai Members wherever you live, please take time to call your Congressional Representative right away and ask them to stand up for asylum seekers. Make it clear that you support a safe and orderly and efficient asylum system and that people who are looking for safety have the right to ask for protection in the US.

With Challenge Comes Opportunity! Welcome to Rabbi Shimon Moch

Message from Marilyn Blackhall, President

While we continue the challenging search for a new permanent Rabbi, it is with great pride and pleasure that we welcome Rabbi Shimon Moch to the interim position of Rabbi of the Hebrew Congregation of St. Thomas.

Rabbi Moch is most definitely not a stranger to us. He was the Hebrew Congregation's permanent Rabbi beginning December 2008 and remained our Rabbi for 6 years, until 2014. Having recently retired, he graciously accepted our interim position and has hit the ground running. His ideas, energy, love for the congregation, and willingness to embrace all of our needs, along with his wonderful leadership of Friday night services has been a true blessing.

Rabbi Moch graduated from George Washington University, spending his junior year at Hebrew University in Jerusalem. He received a master's degree from Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Jerusalem and Cincinnati, and was later awarded his doctorate of divinity from the same institution after having completed 25 years of rabbinic service. He has served several congregations throughout his career in Guatemala, Florida, Arkansas, North Carolina, Illinois, the Caribbean, Canada, and South America, to name a few.

Rabbi Moch plans to have programs for children and adults and to provide opportunities for learning, and the spiritual enjoyment of our Judaism.

Let us join together in offering this blessing for Rabbi Moch:

May Torah and tradition continue to be a source of joy for Rabbi Moch and may he be blessed with insight and inspiration as he contributes to Jewish learning and practice. May he have the wisdom and compassion to teach and comfort those in need and may words of wisdom come from his lips and compassion fill his heart as we move together from strength to strength.

Don't spend Tish'a B'Av alone.
Join Hebrew Congregation friends
Sunday, August 7, 2022, 10:30 am
At Magen's Bay Shed 1

In our lifetime, we have lived to see the rebirth and blossoming of the State of Israel, the third Jewish Commonwealth

A new kind of spirit of Torah now goes forth from Zion
It is time to CELEBRATE not mourn, time to FEAST not fast
We celebrate what history deemed worthy to save and preserve from Jewish teaching and life.

What do we value, live and strive to pass on?

FAMILY BEACH ART ACTIVITY

We will create family or group collages that represent what we value.

We will put them together to make a community collage.

Bring ideas. What do you value from Jewish life?

Bring food and fun activities for the beach.

HOURGLASS

Shalom and welcome
to a place where history and destiny meet, where looking up, and looking down, and looking around all tell a tale unlike almost any other.

We have come together here,
as a community and as a congregation,
in spirituality and study and service,
one generation to the next, since 1796
— and in our current building since 1833.

In coming together now, you step into that tradition,
and help write the next chapter in our ongoing story.
